DURASTRETCH

DURASTRETCH fabrics are a classic in mountaineering apparel; though extremely comfortable and light-weight, they are very resistant to abrasion and rips, and this, thanks to their main component: polyamide. They are truly made to be durable. Most of the DURASTRETCH fabrics in this collection are recommended for the hole year, since their inner structure quickly wicks away sweat.

This year, the Durastretch family evolve towards a new kind of fabric: the Durastretch Powerlite. It is the lightest double weave version we ever offered until now for alpine climbing. Thanks to polypropylene threads weaved with the resistant polyamide, this fabric is even more soft and comfortable on the skin. This sensation is also increased thanks to the hydrophobic properties of polypropylene that push moisture and perspiration outside the garment. The tight weaving makes also this fabric wind-resistant without additional finishing.

DRYTON

DRYTON is easy-care, durable and resistant, and has the feel of natural fabrics. It is extremely functional, as it makes moisture move quickly along the length of its fibers and evaporate more efficiently, and it eliminates body moisture very rapidly. Therefore it protects the body from overheating during physical activity and from chilling after the action has ceased.
